Athens, Greece (CNN) -- A Greek investigative journalist was acquitted of criminal charges Thursday after he published the names of about 2,000 Greeks with Swiss bank accounts, a move that embarrassed the country's political and business elite.

Kostas Vaxevanis, the editor of the magazine First Direct, was charged with violating Greece's data protection law. He was arrested on Sunday, a day after his magazine published the list, and acquitted

Yiwu Survey
More than two decades ago, no one even imagined that Chinese economy would have influenced the world's economy so greatly, and would have been exerting a persistent and far-reaching impact on it. Yiwu is such a typical epitome of the development made with Chinese characteristics.
The commodities that are produced by or converge at Yiwu have reached 212 countries or regions all over the world. Each day witnesses $500,000 foreign foreign purchasing goods, and over 1000 containers of commodities consigned directly departing from Yiwu. However, you cannot just transfer Yiwu into a center for commodity wholesaling and exporting, as well as a regional goods processing according to be termed a "factory". All of these are just a representation. Yiwu itself represents the integrated commodities and production in the domestic market. China's rise in the world economy and growth of the global market.
Yiwu, however, and low energy consumed, increased productivity and labor intensive processing, leading to an increasing degree which will ensure the preservation of goods' quality.
Yiwu has been home of China's Yiwu.

“Our aim is to bring together donors, partner countries and civil society to enhance aid effectiveness by improving transparency.”

THE INTERNATIONAL AID TRANSPARENCY INITIATIVE

The International Aid Transparency Initiative (IATI) is a new initiative which aims to make information about aid spending easier to access, use and understand.

This will help those involved in aid programmes to better track what aid is being used for and what it is achieving – from the taxpayers in donor countries who provide the money, to those in developing countries who benefit from aid spending.

Improving transparency also helps governments in developing countries to manage aid more effectively, so that each dollar goes as far as possible in

Brug energiberegneren til at spare penge

Over 50% af alle huse i Danmark kan spare penge på energioptimering – undersøg om du bor i en af dem.

Klik på BEREGN hvis du bor i parcelhus, rækkehus eller et stuehus på en landejendom.

Følg vejledningen, og få en uvildig og uafhængig energihandlingsplan til dit hus – på under 15 min.

Du skal have din varme, el- og vandregning for sidste år parat, inden du går i gang.

Beregn mit hus

Mange huseejere kan spare op til 3-5000,- pr. år.

Hvor meget kan jeg spare?

Du bliver husets energiekspert

- Du skal svare på ca. 25 relevante spørgsmål – konkret tilpasset dit hus.
- Der er forslag til svar til alle spørgsmål.
- Er forslaget ikke rigtigt, vælger du blandt svar-mulighederne det rigtige.
- Kender du ikke de præcise forhold vælger du "ved-ikke"-svaret.

Dit udbytte af energiberegneren

- På din mail modtager du en gratis handlingsplan, konkret tilpasset dit hus.
- I Handlingsplanen kan du se hvad du skal foretage dig, og hvad du kan spare om året.
- Du modtager et gratis finansieringsudbud.
- Du bestemmer om du selv vil udføre arbejdet eller få en håndværker til noget af det.

in support of policy goals

Familiale landbouw, is it weg uit de armoede?

"We have no choice to count on family farmers worldwide as a way out of poverty. Family farmers represent up to 80% of the population in developing countries... Many decisions were made in favour of the urban elites and larger agricultural producers mainly active in the export-sector... Small scale farmers have been forgotten in policymaking... there is an urgent need to support family farmers in developing countries. This is the best way to combat poverty and hunger".

Spanish Meteo Restarts Charging for Data

View Edit Track Devel

tags: AEMET Charging charging policy Financial Impact Information Standards Law and Regulation meteorological data petition PSI Re-use Business Public Sector Culture Spain

Posted by tonzjlstra on 31 Oct 2012

In a surprising move the Spanish Meteo service AEMET has decided on 25 October to start charging for meteo-data that until now was provided free of charge. As of 30 October the FTP service providing access to AEMET data has been shut down. A document announcing the decision that was originally available has been removed from the AEMET website, and currently no mention of the change in policy is being made by AEMET on their website.

The FTP access to AEMET's data was popular, and a year ago AEMET itself boasted the 190.000 daily FTP downloads it handled.

A petition has been started at Change.org to protest the decision and has been signed by over 2300 people thusfar.

Spanish national newspaper El Pais has covered the decision critically, as has La Razon.

Fernando Belda, AEMET's director for production and infrastructures stated that the decision needed to conform to a 2006 ministerial order on public prices, as a report of the State Audit Office apparently said last July. Other government sources deny that the quoted text can force AEMET to charge for the raw data, as it only affects products. The World Meteorological Organization has called upon its members to freely publish raw information to facilitate research.

In November 2010 AEMET had introduced its new data policy, providing free FPT access to diverse data as hourly data of solar radiation, ozone daily information, radar images, numerical models, historical records (which in some stations reached back to 1920), total ozone data, weekly ozone measurements etc. AEMET at the time noted that "the policy of increasing liberalization of meteorological data has also been recommended by the Oslo Declaration, signed in 2009 by 25 European Meteorological Services", among which was AEMET itself.

Apparently in 2010 the 2006 decree AEMET now cites as motivation was not a barrier. AEMET does face budget cuts currently

Datenportal der Gemeinde Engerwitzdorf

Seit Oktober 2012 haben wir einen umfassenden Datenkatalog mit 95 Datensätzen auf dem österreichischen Datenportal data.gv.at veröffentlicht. Darin enthalten sind Geodaten zu Spielanlagen, Veranstaltungsorten, Jugendzentren, Sportanlagen, Apotheken, Kinderbetreuungseinrichtungen, Seniorenheim, Sozialbetreuungsstelle, Feuerwehren und gemeindeeigene Gebäude, Zahlen zu Kinderbetreuung, Kulturtagen, Abstammung, Wahl, Abwasser- und Abfallwirtschaft sowie zum Gemeindehaushalt.

Wir wollen mit diesem Schritt die schon bisher geübte Transparenz auf ein neues Niveau stellen. Schon bisher haben wir schon am Tag nach der Gemeinderatssitzung die wichtigsten Beschlüsse und nach spätestens einer Woche das gesamte Sitzungsprotokoll veröffentlicht. Diese Protokolle werden nun ebenfalls Teil der zeitgemäßen Veröffentlichungsform in einem Open-Data-Portal. Als erste Gemeinde nutzen wir das neue Cloud-Service des Bundesportals. Auf data.gv.at können Behörden nicht nur Metadaten einpflegen und zu eigenen Portalen verlinken, sondern sie können auch die Datensätze selbst hochladen.

Wir wurden bei diesem Projekt vom KDZ - Zentrum für Verwaltungsforschung, Herrn Mag. Krabina bestens beraten und betreut.

Nun sind wir auf die Nutzung der Daten gespannt. Aufgrund der geographischen Nähe zur Stadt Linz erhoffen wir uns in der "Open-Commens-Reg" eine rasche Verwertung.

How big are PSI-related markets and activities?

- Business not as usual:
 - What if access was freed up and PSI was effectively given away, lowering costs, removing restrictions or reducing various embedded barriers?
 - Welfare gains from completely open access to PSI could be of the order of...

Blog Posting: The Story Behind the Big Clean

9 Oct 2012

On November 3rd, at the National Technical Library in Prague, the 2012 Big Clean will take place. Big Clean? Yes, it is a spring cleaning for open government data! So that more data becomes better usable throughout the PSI re-use lifecycle. How did the Big Clean come about, and what is in store for the 2012 edition in Prague?

Big Clean Prague

14-9-2012

The Big Clean is taking place in Prague on 3 November.

Its goal is to share with you the skills to recycle public sector data and give you the ability to prolong and expand its usefulness.

The life-cycle of public sector data can be long indeed. A new life of the data in the hands of the public may start with data acquisition by the...

Optimistic Radical

be optimistic about gov

What is an action?

1. YOU can do it (it is not enough to imagine someone else doing it...)
2. It requires no big funding
3. It can be done in an hour, a day or a week
4. It doesn't have to be novel (it can be copied, tweaked and repeated)

be radical with your skills
