The Section on Document Delivery and Resource Sharing (IDLS) is the forum in the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA, the leading international body representing the interests of library and information services and their users. It is the global voice of the library and information profession for libraries and associations concerned with making information in all formats available throughout the world through a variety of resource sharing and document supply techniques.

The Section's primary objective is to extend and improve document delivery and interlending both nationally and internationally through the use of new technologies and increased cooperation among libraries and document suppliers.

IDLS holds bi-annual conferences (locations are selected by IFLA through an official "request for hosting" process) and conducts peer-review conducted by the IDLS standing committee (for this year's conference: <http://meetings.ankos.org.tr/ilds2015/index.php#organizers>) for submissions to this event as well as for final review of papers presented during the conference.

Library representatives at the conference were S. Krueger and S. Skenderija; paper co-author V. Heicl was unable to attend in person.

- Presentation: http://meetings.ankos.org.tr/ilds2015/files/Day1/ILDS2015_Heicl_Istanbul.pptx

Full-length papers for all presentations have not yet been published; a full conference program is available here: <http://meetings.ankos.org.tr/ilds2015/index.php#programme>

This year's conference included over 100 participants from over 20 countries; a list of participants who registered before the conference which does not include all conference participants is available at: <http://meetings.ankos.org.tr/ilds2015/participants.php>

The three-day conference was held at newly-opened facilities for the Ottoman State Archives.

Highlights of the program (i.e., presentations which did not have a limited regional focus) included:

- Presentation of international survey results conducted by the American Library Association (ALA), Reference and User Services (RUSA) International Library Loan Committee, <https://drive.google.com/file/d/0B1t1Rgow4BBZUU9fTWVDeIE1Y3c/edit>; 2015 survey results were compared to similar surveys conducted in 2007 and 2011
- A description of difficulties faced by cross-border ILL/document delivery (DD) activities and a possible framework for addressing these, <https://drive.google.com/file/d/0B1t1Rgow4BBZZEVBaW1acDNhTU0/edit>
- A status report on the Danish (national) Digital Article Service, <https://drive.google.com/file/d/0B1t1Rgow4BBZSmRHYkFWN3pBNm8/edit>
- A comparative look at professorial ILL behaviors at two universities in Finland, <https://drive.google.com/file/d/0B1t1Rgow4BBZZ1pVN01TcS01a00/edit>
- A presentation on new ILL/DD trends in several former Russian republics and Turkey, <https://drive.google.com/file/d/0B1t1Rgow4BBZTHp2dERWdmVHaXM/edit>
- A description of interdepartmental collaboration in relation to library services at Loyola University (Illinois, US), <https://drive.google.com/file/d/0B1t1Rgow4BBZczNnUU1PS2R1NVk/edit>

The conference was particularly helpful in developing strong professional contacts within the international ILL/DD community and highlighting NTK's forward-looking approach towards ILL/DD, in which our service offerings match those of the best ILL/DD institutions.

Particularly useful contacts made (i.e., with whom NTK's representatives had substantive conversations) include the following:

Anotace:

This is an extremely professional and useful conference.

It would be helpful if NTK would become a member of IFLA and/or enable individual memberships to at least a few key staff so that they might become active in important international committees such as IDLS or the Science and Technology libraries section (<http://www.ifla.org/sci-tech-libraries>) and Reference and Information Services section (<http://www.ifla.org/reference-and-information-services>).

In order for us to become more active in committees, NTK would also have to be able to fund participation by any committee members to the annual IFLA conference, which in 2016 will be held in Columbus, Ohio, US (home to OCLC, <http://conference.ifla.org/>), although we could investigate options for virtual participation in the committees.

Regardless, we recommend active following of the aforementioned sections in order to stay abreast of new trends and developments, and to find opportunities to showcase innovative work done by NTK on an international stage.
